Adjustment of in the insurance premium for occupational accident and disease from July 1, 2022

In order to support employees and employers facing difficulties due to Covid-19, in Resolution 68/NQ-CP in 2021, the Government has allowed employers to apply a premium rate of 0% of the salary fund as a basis for paying social insurance premiums to the occupational accident and disease for 12 months (from July 1, 2021 to June 30, 2022) for employees eligible for the occupational accident and disease insurance. That means, from July 1, 2022, the policy related to occupational accident and disease insurance will be terminated. The enterprise will return to the previous rate of occupational accident and occupational disease insurance.

Pursuant to Article 4 of Decree 58/2020/ND-CP, the rate of contribution to the occupational accident and disease fund from July 1, 2022 is as follows:

- Enterprises are eligible to contribute to the occupational accident and disease fund at a lower rate, are accepted by the Department of Labor - Invalids and Social Affairs with a written request: Contribution of 0.3% of the salary fund as a basis for paying social insurance premiums
- The other enterprises: Contribution of 0.5% of the salary fund as the basis for paying social insurance premiums.

Official Letter No. 32670/CTHN-TTHT on tax policy for capital contribution and receipt

Official Letter No. 32670/CTHN-TTHT issued by the Hanoi Tax Department on July 11, 2022, explaining the tax policy governing capital contribution and receipt. Accordingly, if the Company receives an individual's capital contribution equal to the value of trademark ownership and transfers trademark ownership from the individual to the Company under the Intellectual Property Law, the tax obligations of the Company and the individual are as follows:

The transfer of intellectual property rights under the Intellectual Property Law is not subject to Value Added Tax (VAT).

The assessable income from capital investment is calculated when the taxpayer is paid by the income payer. If at the time of capital contribution, the individual has not been paid income from capital investment, the personal income tax (PIT) from capital contribution has not yet arisen.

The Company accepts new capital contributors according to the law, whose assets after capital contribution are determined to be owned by the Company, added to the business capital, shall not be included in taxable income to calculate Corporate income tax (CIT) of the Company.

The valuation of assets contributed as capital shall comply with Article 16 of Law on Enterprises 2020. In case the assets contributed as capital are determined as intangible fixed assets according to Article 3 of Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC, the Company will depreciate intangible fixed assets according to Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC. In case the assets contributed as capital are valued not according to the market price, the taxpayer is subject to tax liability imposition as prescribed in Article 50 of Law on Tax Administration.
